Greetings,

It is our pleasure to offer your business a great opportunity to become a valuable sponsor of the South Carolina Poultry Festival. What a better way to spotlight the largest agri-business in South Carolina - a $1 BILLION industry that employs thousands in production, processing, marketing of eggs, broilers, turkeys, pigeons, quail and spring chickens! Lexington, Saluda, and Aiken Counties are among the state's top broiler producers while serving headquarters to Columbia Farms, Amick Farms, and Gentry's Poultry.

For the past 31 years, festival goers have packed the weekend population of Batesburg-Leesville to 100,000 plus!! It takes a lot of hard work, volunteers, and sponsors like you to assemble a festival like ours. The South Carolina Poultry Festival proudly boasts the following events with no admission fees:

- 6 stages of continuous entertainment
- Food vendors
- A 3 day carnival
- 100 plus unit parade
- A variety of crafters
- Commercial vendors
- A car show with approximately 100 entries each year
- A street dance on Friday and Saturday evenings
- One of the largest pyro-musical displays on Saturday evening!

Funds raised from sponsorships are also used for regular contributions to various area charities, organizations, and community causes such as the construction of a walking track around the town park, scholarships for high school seniors, and scholarships for Poultry Science majors at Clemson University.

Please review the attached sponsor packet and partner with us today for the 31st Annual South Carolina Poultry Festival. Let's continue to give back to a community that has given so much to us. Thank you in advance for what your business does for our community, for your time, and your consideration.

Sincerely,

The South Carolina Poultry Festival Steering Committee

As we begin planning the 32nd annual South Carolina Poultry Festival, we need your help in making this event possible. This festival that so many have come to enjoy and expect is only possible because of the financial support of businesses like yours.

We are proud to offer the following sponsorship opportunities as well as single ads in our official festival program book. The 8'x10' program book is something that festival goers look forward to each year and contains the supporters of our festival as well as information on the highlights of the festival. Benefits of becoming a festival sponsor may be found on the attached page.

Please review the information, complete, and return this form by February 28, 2018. You may enclose your ad with this form or submit it by emailing kcaughman@economyfurniture.com. If you have any questions regarding our sponsorship or advertising opportunities, please call Kimberly Caughman or Betsy Dority at 803-532-9273. We appreciate your support and look forward to seeing you at the festival!
